My dear friend,

Many thanks for your kind letter. I am in a lovely place green and quiet and I feel much better already.

Yes, I have been very poorly and much worried for a time. It is over now. It is not good to explain to anyone why. That is no matter. I am better now and I hope shall not so worry again.

Thank you for all your prayers. I did not speak much to you but I saw you knew I was troubled. Do not mind. All things work together for good, though some times they are a long while!

I did not see the two men but I believe the General did.

Tell Rw Coxhrad to bring the girl to you on Sunday by train and send her luggage the next day. His address is

273 West Ferry Rd,

Millwall. E

Miss Soper told me of your conversation with her. That was the stranger's portrait I wished to send! You will love her much when you know her well, and when you know a little how much she has done for me. I am not worthy of God's great goodness. He maketh the darkness light.

Now we shall keep Sweden, when this woman and the man and you go back full of love and fire and faith.

Are you now satisfied of me?

The God of love and peace keep you in His arms of strength and grace always.

Yours affectionately in His Son

W. Bramwell Booth
